

Broadband Internet over Power Lines is a bad idea. The interference that it would cause would effect radio communications for many Govt. users as well as commercial. Airlines, Highway Patrols, FBI, and many other Govt. users do not need additional interference problems. Japan and Germany both have tried this and turned it down, what makes us think we will be able to do it without problems. This idea is not in the best interest of the U.S. Govt. Larry Russell